'Reparations to Germany'

—by—
SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL
"The Gentleman from Indiana"

Mussolini and Hitler died and the war in Europe ended a year ago. In Italy it ended almost three years ago. Yet, in terms of hunger, Europe is far worse off than during the war.

Whose fault is this? Have allied blunders disorganized the economy of Europe even more than war? To what extent is this a political famine?

If Uncle Sam, alias Sap, is not always to hold the bag, a re-appraisal of our policy must follow the actual relief of Europe's starving millions. Otherwise, we may be feeding Europe for years. The distributions of scarcity will not suffice. Unless Europe is made to produce, hate will grow from the seeds of our well meant charity.

Famine comes from lack of the production of food, of transportation, or both. Do you know that we have decreed that no new German locomotives may be built before 1949, and perhaps not then? That we have destroyed fertilizer plants upon which Danish, Belgian, Dutch and French farmers depended?

We agreed that Stalin should have the only food-surplus area in Germany. Now, as the Communists "Daily Worker" in London says, "Food is an international political weapon!"

Our political leaders agreed that some 10,000,000 men, women and children in East Germany should be "displaced persons," torn from their ancestral farms in mid-winter and shipped in box cars to crowd the American-controlled, food-deficit area in West Germany. As a result, those left under Stalin have a third more to eat than those under our control.

With our State Department's enormous capacity for minding other people's business, we appeased the Reds in Moscow and the Pinks in Paris almost to the point of inviting revolution and more starving children in Spain. Then we stuck our big thumbs into the Argentine election, with the result that Peron got the largest majority in 30 years. As we did this, Stalin, with his usual cunning, sent a trade mission to the Argentine to build up good will with the "fascist Peron!"

From Poland, an ally, 2,000,000 men have been deported to Russia as slave laborers. Their orphaned children, left behind, are 30 per cent tubercular. In Hungary, Stalin's armies of occupation, equal to 10 per cent of her population, are living off the country.

For lack of food and machinery Germany's coal miners are operating at about one-third capacity. So we ship coal to Europe. Hard-hat Britain is now taxing her exports $250,000,000 a year to go to Germany. As her Chancellor, the Exchequer, Hugh Dalton, says, this is "reparations to Germany!" The London Economist says our policy "robs the future of hope."

We have told every individual in the industrial heart of Europe that for a generation his standard of living cannot exceed other European countries, no matter how hard he works! So why work? Socialistic programs in Britain and France disorganize production. Privately owned industry, about to have their heads chopped off, do not bother to expand. Why, indeed?

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

The soft-coal strike has become almost a strike against the Government, President Truman said yesterday, intimating that he was ready to step in to halt the paralysis spreading over the country. He challenged the legality of John L. Lewis' demand for a tonnage royalty to a welfare fund, the main point of the present dispute, and one source indicated that the President planned to by-pass the union leader. Mr. Truman indicated a stiffening attitude on labor in saying that he would not hesitate to seize the railroads if necessary.

The CPA directed gas utilities to curtail service and the Postoffice limited the size of parcel post matter. Miners and operators made no progress in their negotiations.

Subway service in New York will be cut beginning Wednesday, and Mayor O'Dwyer appealed for a voluntary brownout and rationing of gas and electricity. The Board of Health deferred proclaiming an emergency. New England industries prepared to shut down and citizens were asked to curtail the use of gas. General Motors and Chrysler will start on Monday to close their plants and in the Chicago area most industries went on a half-week basis with others completely halted.

"TIME TO STOP WORRYING ABOUT POLITICAL AFFAIRS OF U. S. AND DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT," REPUBLICAN WOMEN ADVISED BY SPEAKER

Pennsylvania Has Largest Group of Organized Republican Women in Country, But Women Are Entirely Too Complacent About Politics, Official of Pennsylvania Council States at Doylestown.

DOYLESTOWN, May 10—"Pennsylvania has the largest group of organized Republican women in the United States, but it is still very disturbing to me to hear that women are not interested in politics," declared Mrs. Meade D. Detweiler, Jr., of Harrisburg, executive secretary of the State Council of Republican Women.

She was one of the two speakers yesterday at the annual spring meeting of the Bucks County Council of Republican Women, presided over by Mrs. Howard Kooker, Jr., of Quakertown, at the Doylestown Country Club.

Presented to the Council by Mrs. John W. Cooper, of Pineville, honorary president, Mrs. Detweiler said that "women are entirely too complacent." She talked National Federation and Pennsylvania Council business and announced that the Republican State Council has a quota of 136,900 members this year, which she said "is not large" when it is known that there are 1,250,000 registered Republican women in the State.

"Pennsylvania's Council is the largest and most outstanding in the country because we are the only self-supporting council in the country," Mrs. Detweiler explained.

Mrs. Detweiler told the women that "the time has arrived to stop worrying about the political affairs."

Dr. F. H. Green Addresses Teachers at A Luncheon

Officers were elected, awards given for attendance at meetings, a pleasing program of entertainment was enjoyed and an interesting and instructive address featured at the luncheon yesterday afternoon of the Bristol Teachers' Association, local branch of the Pennsylvania State Educational Association. It was held in St. James' parish house and was served by members of the Mothers' Guild. Covers were laid for 70. Flowers lent attractiveness to the tables.

Miss Jane Rogers, retiring president, served as toastmaster, and there were vocal solos by Mrs. David Kozinski and Charles Quigley. Officers chosen for the ensuing year are: President, Charles Utz; vice-president, Charles Quigley; secretary, Mrs. Elizabeth Slater; treasurer, Miss Ellen Smith.

Miss Annie Heritage, Miss Mabel Staley, Miss Grace Haas, Miss Jane Rogers, Miss Ellen Smith, Mrs. Elizabeth Slater, Harry Smith and Miss Dorothy Fisher were given awards for perfect attendance at the meetings of the association.

The guest speaker of the afternoon was Dr. Francis H. Green, president emeritus of Pennington Seminary, Pennington, N. J. In his usual humorous and delightfully entertaining manner Prof. Green took as his topic "A Lesson in English." His unusual handling of the topic greatly pleased his audience.

Warren P. Snyder, superintendent of the Bristol public schools, spoke concerning the new salary schedule of equalization recently adopted by the school board.

Miss Rogers, retiring president of the association, was presented with a beautiful corsage. John Burris acted as accompanist for the group singing. Miss Maud Conner served as chairman of the luncheon committee and read an original poem which contained the names of most of the faculty members.

Italy's King Designate Places Trust in People

Rome—King-designate Humbert II advised Italy's Council of Ministers today he places trust in the present government and intends to abide by the people's verdict in the June 2 referendum on retention of the monarchy. Humbert's re-affirmation of his stand on succeeding his exiled father to the Italian throne came in the form of a letter introduced in a stormy council session highlighted by bitter Leftists opposition. Humbert decided not to insist on a cabinet resignation when he assumed power.

Left-wing insistence that Humbert could not be sworn in because no parliament exists, was met by a government decision that the Council could act as a parliament for the contingency.

No Report from Teheran

Teheran—A government spokesman announced today that Iran would not submit a definite report on Soviet evacuation to the United Nations Security Council until Moscow officially confirms withdrawal of all Russian forces. The Security Council in New York voted to wait until May 20 for a complete appraisal of Soviet actions, in the hope that the Tehran government would know by that date whether the Soviet government had complied with its treaty to withdraw from Iran by May 6.

The decision of Premier Ahmad Ghyam to hold up a report until Moscow communicates with Tehran was seen as leaving the Security Council without assurance of receiving definite information.

Weather May Cancel Bomb Test

About the U. S. S. Mt. McKinley, Enroute to Bikini—Capt. C. H. Lyman, assistant chief for "Operations Cross Roads," disclosed today that the overwater atom bomb test may be cancelled if weather is bad during the first three weeks in July. Lyman said he was confident the first test would be held but that plans call for cancelling it if it "becomes evident that waiting longer will jeopardize completion."

EDDINGTON MAN PLEADS GUILTY AT COURT SESSION

Richard Clark Sentenced On Charge of Aggravated Assault and Battery

BEAT HIS SISTER

Two Bristol Cases for Non-Support Disposed of By Court

DOYLESTOWN, May 10—Richard Clark, of Eddington, who pleaded guilty to aggravated assault and battery and assault and battery, was sentenced to serve not less than six nor more than 23 months in the County Prison, at a session of court here. He pleaded guilty to beating his sister, Marietta Frisch, April 7, following an argument.

A Woods School employee, Chester Coet, 25, who pleaded guilty to assault and battery, was given a suspended sentence on condition that he pay the costs of prosecution. He has been in prison since March 30, when he beat up his landlady, Lena Burrows, at his rooming house in Langhorne. He was recently discharged from the Army and was ordered by the Court to look after his wife who expects to become a mother soon.

Pleading guilty to unlawful sale of beer, Andrew Bowman, Brownsville road, near Trevose, was sentenced to pay fines of $200 and the costs of prosecution. He was arrested March 8, when 15 cases of beer were seized in his home. A revenue officer testified he bought beer twice from the defendant.

Joseph Logan, 100 Court H., Bristol Terrace, who pleaded guilty to unlawfully pointing a firearm, was sentenced to serve two months in the County Prison.

Pleading guilty to selling household goods belonging to Victor Becker, Chalfont, RD 1, in whose home he was residing, Lewis Miller was sentenced to serve not more than one year nor more than five in the County Prison.

The case of Francis Crowley, of Langhorne, charged with non-support, was continued and Judge Keller upbraided Mrs. Crowley for taking their two children from the grandmother's home in Langhorne. She was ordered to produce the children in court at a future hearing.

"You took those children by subterfuge and you deserve no consideration," Judge Keller said.

The case of William DiNunzio, Beaver and Buckley streets, charged with non-support, was continued but the Court ordered the defendant to pay the sum of $25 a week for the support of his wife and minor son.

John W. Besse, charged with non-support, was directed to pay the sum of $18 a week for the support of his wife, who is ill and unable to work, and a minor son. The wife lives at 156 Schumacher Drive, Bristol.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan
(Distributed by International News Service)

A sub-committee of the UN has voted that a man should not have more than one wife at a time. . . . If this doesn't bring world peace we will try something else.

At the current cost of living there are few who could afford more than one wife. . . . supply continues greater than demand.

The OPA has removed price ceilings on watermelons. . . . Nothing can save us now from ruin.

Henry Wallace says the Republicans are "the Pied-Pipers of normalcy." That gives him two targets because if there's anything Henry detests more than a Republican it's normalcy.

Give Henry a good 12 year state of emergency and he thrives on it. . . . Even if we don't.

Things have become abnormal in the music business. The musicians' union is going to allow the University of California to sound an unorganized "A" on the radio without paying a standby musician.

Listen closely because it will be a short "A", much shorter than a short beer. . . . and at the moment there are not many things shorter than a short beer.

NOW FOR THE SPINET ERA

It is estimated that 11,000,000 persons in the United States, most of them children, are studying music. The Music Foundation of America says that 8,000,000 play the piano. These presumably play acceptably. How many additional persons merely commit assault and battery on the piano would make another sizable but now neglected statistic.

But these figures do not mean much to Junior, whose fond parents want him to have a musical education. The postwar shortage of pianos, along with all the other things they have the money to buy but can't get Papa's and Mama's worry. Backed-up orders are sufficient to absorb capacity production for the next five years, industry representatives estimate. Everybody seems to want spinets, they report, with only a few grands and practically no up-rights in demand.

The American family will pay 30 to 60 per cent more than pre-war prices for a new piano, according to a study by the family economics bureau of a large life insurance company. The study finds 60 per cent of the cost of a piano to be wages. Higher prices are expected to have little immediate effect on discouraging demand, and dealers estimate at least ten customers for every instrument to be available this year. Far from rendering the piano obsolete as a medium of musical expression in the home, the radio seems to have made it more popular than ever.

MILADY'S FOOT

The Chiropodist Society of New Jersey, Inc., which makes a business of keeping an eye on what's afoot, has let out the information that women's feet are getting bigger. The fact is, says the society, that members of the teen-age set, who get around now in dirty saddle shoes and bobby socks, will be wearing size 10½-E when they reach the age of twenty-five, whereas their mothers wore about 5-A at this same stage of antiquity.

Doubtless this will cause some consternation among women. There remains in milady's thinking even today some vestige of that era when a stylish lady had feet like a humming bird's and a figure approximating an hour glass, in the style of Lillian Russell. Women of those constricted days could neither breathe deeply because of their corsets, nor balance themselves well if feeling giddy because of such slight underpinnings, and as a consequence often toppled over in inexplicable faints.

By a valiant fight the women got out of those whalebone stays and into the voting booth. So why not now give the foot a chance to express itself? After all, who ever heard anyone but a woman discussing the size of a woman's foot?

If the big foot is coming, then let it come. And leave room in the shoe for an occasional wiggling of the toes.

If, as predicted, the next war is fought by radio, this should give the Frank Sinatras a break.

By distorting price relationships, our O. P. A. bureaucrats have sent more wheat and corn to the feed troughs in American barnyards than ever in history. Administration supported strikes cut down steel and agricultural machinery production when our officials knew millions were starving. The Administration tolerated a California judicial strike while millions of cans of food rotted on the ground. And, as a final exhibit, we have promoted the development of nationwide "collective coercion" with the closed shop as its weapon, so that a few irresponsible persons can take this nation by the throat and starve it of coal or steel or what haven't you?

When human beings are hungry we must feed them first, and ask questions afterward. Let us do just that—feed the starving and then ask the questions.

of our country, and to start doing something about it."

"We must send a Republican Congress to Washington to be able to accomplish any good," she continued. "I have found that States all over the country are interested in whether we are going to send Governor Martin to the United States Senate and get rid of Senator Guffey, and I have been assuring them that we are sending Governor Martin to Washington. If we want a new President in 1948, we must start action now."

Congressman Hugh L. Scott, Jr., who represented his Germantown district four years in Washington, and who recently returned from service as a lieutenant commander in the Navy, predicted that Philadelphia Republicans have a very good chance of sending four of the six candidates to Congress next November. He told the ladies that all of the support the Republicans are receiving in Philadelphia does not come from Republicans alone, but from top-ranking Democrats as well.

"As women of the Bucks County Council you have something worthwhile to sell," Congressman Scott declared. "You have the opportunity to sell freedom of independence and dignity of the human being."

The speaker bitterly flayed the Political Action Committee and the top leaders of the C. I. O.

"We can be proud of the Republican Party and what it has to offer. Certainly it is not a racial or hate party. Our party is after a better way of life for America. We do have a real program and we are going to carry out the objectives."

Congressman Scott gave eight ways in which the objectives of the Republican Party can be carried out. He listed them as follows:

1-Belief by all Republicans that the people who are the best governed are the people who are governed the least.

2-Belief that the people of this country should run the government and not the government the people.

3-That the Republican Party government knows no favorite.

4-By reduction of taxes and economic burdens which cannot be under the present set-up.

5-Only through production can we become strong; all our people must be working and happy.

6-Our foreign policy should be non-partisan.

7-There must be no internal dictators for they are as dangerous as external dictators.

8-That the Government shall tell the people the truth and keep its promises.

"We must believe these things as Republicans in order to really accomplish something in the way of improved government," Congressman Scott contended. "Yes, there is plenty to sell the people. We must eventually get rid of the OPA. The CIO leadership in this country is a very dangerous threat to peace. Did you ever read such a silly thing in your life as appeared in David Stern's Philadelphia Record this morning in Mrs. Roosevelt's column, in which she asked folks to write to their Congressman and protest about the strike situation?"

Mrs. Kooker, before adjourning the meeting, announced that plans are being worked out for a "Breakfast in Hollywood" program to be staged in Doylestown in June for the benefit of the council, and then appointed several committees to complete the advance details and to secure a place to hold the program.

Cub Conference Held At Camp Ockanickon

The following Cub Scouters participated in the Cub Conference at Camp Ockanickon on May 4th and 5th: Howard Shultz, James Farrer, William Rever, John Mawby, Andalusia; Gordon Wilbur, Churchville; C. W. Croft, Southampton; Harry G. Walker, Langhorne; Harold P. Rupert, Harold A. Schulz, J. Edward Stout, Quakertown.

The course was under leadership of Lloyd Bucher, commissioner of the Delaware Valley District; Fred Schmidt, chairman of the Cub Planning committee; and Harvey Swartley, a member of the committee. Included in the conference was work on Cub handicraft. The course was held jointly by the cub planning committee and the council training committee of Bucks County Council, Boy Scouts of America. The four-point cub program was explained and discussion of the same followed.

The council health and safety committee met at Camp Ockanickon on Sunday afternoon and inspected camp. Various suggestions were made to improve the health and safety conditions at camp.

On May 25th a council-wide Scoutcraft Meet will be held at Doylestown Fair Ground starting at 2:30 p. m. The events will be on various scout skills with special demonstrations by the Sea Scouts, Explorer Scouts, and Air Scouts. The district commissioners, William Fryckberg, Lloyd Bucher, Edward Mills, Jr., Raymond W. Musselman, William F. Roberts, and Lewis H. Fetherolf will have charge of events of the afternoon.

Basic course in cub leadership will be held on May 17th in Doylestown at Salem Reformed Church. This is for all Cub Scouters, den mothers, den dads and parents of cubs and prospective Cub Scouters.

The basic Scoutmaster course is being held at Bristol Presbyterian Church, starting May 2nd, under leadership of the district training chairman, A. L. Perkins, Bristol, and William Fryckberg, Eddington, district commissioner.

This week-end the Ajapen Lodge, the National Camp Honor Fraternity, will hold its Spring meeting at Camp Ockanickon at which time the ordeal honors will be given to the scouts who qualified for it in the past year. Edward Mills, Jr., Doylestown, chief of the lodge, will preside. The following week-end the area Order of the Arrow meet will be held. Dr. A. J. Strathie, chairman of the camping and activities committee, reports that to date 342 Scouts have registered for camp with 19 troops of the council. Camp Ockanickon season opens on July 7th.

The Hibernians remained unbeaten in the Bristol Suburban League by trouncing the Schutte-Koerting aggregation, 16-1, on Leedom's field.

Frank Kryven went the route for the Kervickmen and limited the iron-workers to but two hits. For the first five frames, Kryven pitched no-hit ball but Kennedy got a single in the sixth and in the seventh a double by "Johnny" Meesica accounted for the lone Schutte-Koerting run.

The "Hibs" scored seven runs in the sixth at which time 11 players stepped to the plate with four delivering hits and four getting walks.

Sportsmen's Briefs

BY JOE ELBERSON

Meet next Tuesday . . . the May meeting of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association will be held next Tuesday evening, May 14th, in the Odd Fellows' Hall, Walnut and Radcliffe streets. The meeting, which will start at eight o'clock, is open to all interested sportsmen.

Game season dates for 1946 . . . acting early so nimrods can intelligently plan their vacations this Fall, the Game Commission at a recent meeting decided to announce the 1946 hunting dates, Sundays excepted, as follows: Small game season: November 1 to November 30, inclusive. Bears: November 18 to November 23, inclusive. Deer: December 1 to December 15, inclusive. Ross L. Loeffler, president of the Commission, in making this announcement, said early action was taken in accordance with wishes of the sportsmen, and that seasons, bag limits, etc., will be officially established in July.

The woodchuck season was advanced one month because these animals have become over-abundant in numerous sections of the State, due to reduced hunting pressure during the past several years, and are causing considerable crop and other damage in farming regions. It will open June 1. The hunting hours for woodchuck, fixed by law, will be 7 a. m. to 5 p. m., Eastern Standard time, during June, and 6 a. m. to 7:30 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, from July 1 to September 30 inclusive.

Parasites . . . have had numerous reports recently to the effect that many calico bass caught locally have been found to contain a small worm in the flesh of the fish. Upon inquiry I have been told that the worm is not harmful to the edible qualities of the fish, but those of you who catch calico and find this condition will have to use your own judgment as to whether or not they go in the frying pan.

Some figures . . . final figures on the deer and bears killed last year in Pennsylvania, based on individual hunter's reports, were: 25,660 deer, of which 24,575 were antlered bucks and 1,085 antlerless deer; and 365 bears. During the 1944 season the total kill of bucks was 28,411; bears, 295.

Local fishing . . . catfish are presently providing most of the entertainment for local fishermen. Scores of nice catches are still being reported from the Delaware, Maple Beach and Neshaminy Creek.

Examination . . . Game officials recently announced that the next Taxidermy Examination will be held at its offices in Harrisburg on Wednesday, June 5, at nine a. m. Persons desiring to compete therein must do so at their own transportation and other expense. Applications must be filed at least 15 days prior to the date of the examination and may be secured from the Commission's offices in Harrisburg.

Croydon "Vets" Will Meet Edgely Tonight

The Croydon Veterans of Foreign Wars baseball team will make its debut in this section this evening when it meets Edgely A. C. team, of Bristol Suburban League, on the Edgely diamond.

The Croydon Vets will open their home season Sunday afternoon on Bensalem high school field, meeting Fort Monmouth.

Either "Herm" Pluma or "Billy" Gallagher will throw them in for the "Vets" tonight with "Bill" Dea behind the plate. The remainder of the lineup will have such players as Joe Roe, "Jack" McCue, Bert Barbetta, Fred Barbetta, Frank Kriyen, "Camel" Breslin, "Jimmy" Cooper, Wally Oppman, "Herb" Yates, and "Rabbit" Palumbo. "Wils" Holland is manager of the team.

Edgely is high in the standing of the Suburban League and it is most likely that either "Tommy" Purcell, who narrowly missed a no-hitter last week or Ralph Linck will do the hurling for the DeKoyermen.
